Apparently the lawyer shaking down small businesses over non-compliance with ADA requirements is at it again. Recently, a business owner was conned out of $3,000. Used to be $2,000 but with inflation you know. I viewed what was in error and it was very minor. My point here is that when someone comes to the counter to apply for a license for a new or remodeled business we should also include a note about being ADA compliant and the appropriate contact information with the State. The city is not responsible for ADA compliance but it would be a good gesture on our part to show our concerns for new business so they don't become prey for this lawyer. or anyone else who is out to pad their bank account.

Hello Mayor, council members and staff. My name is Shelley Sanderson and I am a former Mayor and City Council member from the City of West Covina. I am reaching out to let you know about a wonderful company that will be joining this beautiful community. Panini Kabob Grill is a Mediterranean restaurant that serves healthy meal options for families and corporate events. They have secured a lease at the previous Broken Yoke location at the Escondido mall. The restaurant's are beautifully constructed with quality materials such as granite and travertine. I am excited and honored to be a part of such a wonderful company. Panini Kabob has 22 successful locations throughout Southern California. My goal is to create contacts with the city of Escondido to work through the permit process, assist on a smooth construction process and have the grand opening for this delicious food venue and start generating income for the community. I hope to connect and establish communication with your staff so we can get started.
